ORDER¹ DISMISSING ACTIONS

1 Currently before the Court are six related actions arising from labor disputes between the 2 Service Employees International Union (“SEIU”), Local 715 (“Local 715”) and two of its 3 members’ employers, the Stanford Hospital & Clinics and Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital 4 (“the Hospitals”). Four of the actions relate to the Hospitals’ allegedly wrongful termination of 5 individual employees. A fifth action arises from the Hospitals’ allegedly wrongful withholding 6 of dues from Local 715, and a sixth stems from the Hospitals’ alleged failure to pay certain 7 employees a type of additional compensation for special services rendered. In two of the 8 actions—one of the wrongful termination disputes and the special compensation dispute—the 9 relevant grievance already has been arbitrated. In the remaining four actions, Local 715 seeks to 10 compel arbitration pursuant to the parties’ now-terminated collective bargaining agreement 11 (“CBA”).

12 The Hospitals, seeking to vacate the existing arbitral awards and to preclude further 13 arbitrations, move for summary judgment on the grounds that (1) Local 715 has no standing to 14 compel arbitration or confirm an arbitration award because it does not have a legally cognizable 15 existence, (2) even if Local 715 does exist, it lacks standing because its bargaining authority was 16 terminated when SEIU effectively dissolved it pursuant to a reorganization plan for California 17 locals, (3) again assuming that Local 715 exists, the parties seeking to compel arbitration are not 18 in fact Local 715 but employees of another union acting pursuant to an invalid servicing 19 agreement with Local 715, and (4) the two extant arbitration awards are invalid. As explained 20 in detail below, the Court finds that the Hospitals have carried their Rule 56 burden of showing 21 that Local 715 has ceased to exist, and that Local 715 has not carried its burden of identifying a 22 triable issue of material fact with respect to its legal existence. However, because Local 715 23 does not exist, there is no case or controversy before this Court. Accordingly, rather than 24 granting the Hospitals’ motions for summary judgment, the Court will dismiss each of the six 25 actions as moot.

I. BACKGROUND

A. The Collective Bargaining Agreement

In 1998, the National Labor Relations Board (“NLRB”) certified Local 715 as the “exclusive collective bargaining representative” of a unit of the Hospitals’ employees (“the Bargaining Unit”). NLRB Certification, Arnold Decl., Ex. A. Pursuant to this formal certification, the Hospitals negotiated a succession of collective bargaining agreements with Local 715. The last operative CBA, the terms of which apply to the instant disputes, became effective on January 20, 2006 and was set to expire on November 4, 2008. See CBA, Arnold Decl., ¶ 4. Article 1.3.1 of the CBA contains a “Recognition Clause” stating that pursuant to the NLRB’s certification, the employer recognizes “[Local 715] as the sole and exclusive representative for the purpose of collective bargaining” with respect to Bargaining Unit employees. CBA, at 1 (emphasis added). Article 26 contains a grievance and arbitration procedure through which alleged violations of the CBA may be challenged. CBA, at 62-69. Article 26.2.1 states that “[Local 715] will have the right to present grievances under this procedure on behalf of an individual employee, on behalf of a group of employees, or on behalf of itself as a Union grievance.” CBA, at 62. Article 26.2.3.e provides that “only [Local 715] may appeal a grievance to arbitration.” CBA, at 63.

B. Local 715

1. The Servicing Agreement with United Healthcare Workers

While the ultimate issue of Local 715’s legal existence is highly disputed, most of the facts underlying that issue are not in dispute. Thus, it is undisputed that in late February 2006, Kristy Sermersheim, the Executive Secretary of Local 715, executed a three-page Servicing Agreement (“the Servicing Agreement”) with the president of another local union known as United Healthcare Workers–West (“UHW”). See Arnold Decl., Ex. CC (letter attaching Servicing Agreement). The Servicing Agreement provided that UHW would provide certain “professional services” to Local 715 at no cost, including “[r]epresentation in the grievance procedure and at arbitration hearings,” “[r]epresentation at labor-management meetings,” and

1 “[a]ssistance to members appearing before the National Labor Relations Board on behalf of the 2 Local 715 Chapter at the Stanford Facility.” Id. By its terms, the Servicing Agreement was to 3 become effective as of March 1, 2006. Id.

4 2. The Role of UHW

5 On February 28, 2006, Greg Pullman, the Staff Director of Local 715, informed Laurie 6 Quintel, the Hospitals’ Director of Employee and Labor Relations, that the settlement of 7 grievances and unfair labor practice charges would be handled by an employee of UHW named 8 Ella Hereth. Quintel Decl., ¶ 9. At or about the same time, another UHW representative 9 apparently informed Ms. Quintel that UHW would be taking over representation for the 10 Hospitals. Quintel Decl., ¶ 10. When Ms. Quintel sought clarification, Mr. Pullman assured her 11 that “Local 715 represents the workers covered by our agreement” but that “Local 715 has asked 12 SEIU UHW to service this unit in many ways on a day-to-day basis.” Quintel Decl., ¶ 11-12 & 13 Ex. B (attaching correspondence).

14 According to the Hospitals, between March and May of 2006, all functions that 15 previously had been carried out by Local 715 personnel were carried out exclusively by UHW 16 employees. The Hospitals point to correspondence stating that grievances had been filed “on 17 behalf of SEIU UHW” and referring to Local 715 bargaining unit employees as “members” of 18 UHW. Quintel Decl., ¶ 15 & Ex. D (letter attaching “a grievance filed on behalf of SEIU-19 UHW”). During the same period, Ms. Hereth sent a letter to Ms. Quintel instructing her to 20 “direct all SEIU correspondence . . . to . . . Ella Hereth and Rachel Deutsch, SEIU United 21 Healthcare Workers–West.” Quintel Decl., ¶ 14 & Ex. C. On May 22, 2006, another UHW 22 employee informed the Hospitals that “[she] and Ella Hereth do not work for SEIU 715.
23 SEIU-UHW is doing the representation work here at Stanford Hospital.” Quintel Decl., ¶ 20 & 24 Ex. H. On the same day, Mr. Pullman stated in an e-mail that three UHW representatives based 25 in San Francisco were “handling all representation matters for SEIU Local 715.” Quintel Decl., 26 ¶ 20 & Ex. H.

27 On May 26, 2006, Ms. Quintel received an email from a representative of UHW who 28

1 claimed to have authority to accept changes to the parties' CBA. Quintel Decl., ¶ 21 & Ex. I.
 2 On March 28, 2006, W. Daniel Boone of the law firm Weinberg Roger & Rosenfeld, which 3 historically had acted as counsel for Local 715, wrote a letter to Laurence R. Arnold, an attorney
 4 with the law firm of Foley & Lardner LLP representing the Hospitals, regarding a pending 5 grievance. In the subject line of his letter, Mr. Boone referred to "United Healthcare Workers – 6 West (formerly SEIU, Local 715)." Arnold Decl., ¶ 26 & Ex. S. Although Mr. Boone, in a 7 subsequent letter, characterized his reference to the "former" Local 715 as an error, that 8 subsequent letter contained the same "error." Arnold Decl., ¶ 25-28 & Exs. R-W. Separately, 9 Ms. Quintel states that in early April 2006, she received a telephone call from a UHW employee 10 who stated that when the Hospitals remitted union dues, they needed to provide the Social 11 Security Numbers of the relevant employees to help UHW identify them. Quintel Decl., ¶ 16.

12 3. Hospitals' rejection of UHW as Local 715's agent

13 In May of 2006, the Hospitals declared that they no longer would deal with employees of 14 UHW because of what they considered mounting evidence that UHW was not providing limited 15 "professional services" but actually was assuming all of Local 715's core functions. The 16 Hospitals announced that they did not consent to any transfer of bargaining rights from Local 17 715 to UHW. Quintel Decl., ¶ 19 & Ex. G; Arnold Decl., ¶ 32 & Ex. Z. In June, 2006, the 18 Hospitals also requested information from Local 715 regarding the organization's current status 19 and the role of UHW, given what they considered indications that Local 715 had abandoned or 20 was abandoning its status as the certified bargaining representative. Arnold Decl., ¶ 32 & Ex. Z.

21 In response to further requests for documentation with respect to the status of Local 715 22 and its relationship with UHW, the Hospitals received a copy of the Servicing Agreement in 23 mid-August 2006. Quintel Decl., ¶ 24-25 & Ex. L; Arnold Decl., ¶ 36-38 & Ex. CC-EE.
 24 According to the Hospitals, the Servicing Agreement did not accurately reflect the relationship 25 between Local 715 and UHW, in that Local 715 purportedly had abdicated all of its 26 responsibilities and assigned them to UHW in accordance with a reorganization plan designed 27 by SEIU and described below. Thus, in a letter dated August 29, 2006 and addressed to Ms.
 28

Sermersheim, the Executive Secretary of Local 715, Mr. Arnold stated that the Hospitals did not recognize the Servicing Agreement and would not deal with employees of UHW acting pursuant to the Agreement. Arnold Decl., ¶ 38 & Ex. EE.

4. The SEIU reorganization plan

On June 9, 2006, SEIU issued a report outlining a plan to reorganize various SEIU Locals (the “SEIU Reorganization Plan”). The report noted that “Local 715 is the certified representative of employees at Stanford and Lucille [sic] Packard Hospitals” but that “UHW is actually servicing employees in these facilities . . . pursuant to servicing agreements.” SEIU, Hearing Officers’ Joint Report and Recommendations, Inciardi Decl., Ex. T, at 16. Consistent with jurisdictional changes outlined in the report and designed to provide greater union strength, the report concluded that “the affiliation of private healthcare units represented by Locals 727, 715, and 2028 should be changed to UHW as soon as feasible.” Id. at 65. Shortly after issuance of the report, SEIU’s International President announced that the report would be adopted, and confirmed that “Private Sector Hospital units currently represented by Locals 535, 707, 715, 2028, and 4988 will merge into UHW.” SEIU, Memorandum Re. IEB Decision on California Jurisdiction, dated June 11, 2006, Quintel Decl., ¶ 23 & Ex. K, at 4.

5. Reorganization and merger

On January 2, 2007, SEIU’s International President issued an “Order Of Reorganization” to various SEIU locals, including Local 715, directing that “all . . . Stanford/Lucille [sic] Packard Hospital workers be, and are hereby, reorganized into SEIU Local UHW.” Order of Reorganization, dated January 2, 2007, Inciardi Decl., Ex. U (emphasis added). The Order was “effective January 2, 2007, or as soon thereafter as practicable.” Id. On January 31, 2007, Ms. Quintel was copied on an email from Robert W. Rutledge, Chief Steward for the hospital workers’ Bargaining Unit, to Valerie Jeffries, Senior Employee and Labor Relations Specialist for UHW, in which Mr. Rutledge stated that “SEIU 715 no longer exists and a service agreement between the former 715 and UHW has been in place since March first of 2006.” Quintel Decl., ¶ 28 & Ex. O. Although several purported agents of Local 715 under the 1 Servicing Agreement were copied on the email, Ms. Quintel is not aware of any response to Mr.

 2 Rutledge's assertion that Local 715 no longer existed. See Quintel Decl., ¶ 28. According to 3 Ms. Quintel, Mr. Rutledge repeated his assertion that Local 715 no longer existed at a meeting 4 with Ms. Quintel on or about February 2, 2007. Quintel Decl., ¶ 29. In that meeting, Mr.
 5 Rutledge also apparently stated that Local 715 no longer represented the Hospitals' employees, 6 who in fact were represented by UHW. Quintel Decl., ¶ 29.

7 Ms. Quintel also monitored Local 715's website, which by late January 2007 contained 8 the following notice: "We are in the process of transitioning to our new local 521. This web site 9 will be taken down on Feb. 28. On March 1, our new Local's web site www.seiu521.org will 10 have your chapter pages and other information." Quintel Decl., ¶ 30 & Ex. P (collecting website 11 screen captures). By March 1, 2007, visitors to Local 715's website automatically were 12 redirected to the website of Local 521. The Local 521 website stated that five local unions, 13 including Local 715 "have come together . . . by forming one larger, more powerful local." 14 Quintel Decl., ¶ 32 & Ex. R. On the website, Local 715 was referred to consistently as "former 15 Local 715." Quintel Decl., ¶ 32 & Ex. R (attaching website screen captures) (emphasis added).
 16 On March 5, the website contained the following statement: "Five locals (415, 535, 700, 715, 17 and 817) have come together to cover the North Central region by forming one larger, more 18 powerful local. On January 2, 2007, our new local received its charter. On March 1, 2007, the 19 resources of all five locals were transferred to Local 521." Quintel Decl., ¶ 40 & Ex. X. On 20 March 2, 2007, Ms. Quintel performed a search for "Stanford University Medical Center" on the 21 UHW Website (<http://SEIU-UHW.org>), which returned a listing indicating that UHW 22 represented the Hospitals. Quintel Decl., ¶ 34 & Ex. S.

23 6. Hospitals' decision to cease remitting dues to Local 715

24 While Local 715's purported representatives continued to assert that the union still 25 existed and had undergone no changes, Quintel Decl., ¶ 39 & Ex. W, the Hospitals claim to have 26 been convinced that Local 715 had ceased to exist not later than March 1, 2007. Because the 27 CBA required the Hospitals to deduct union dues from Bargaining Unit employees' paychecks 28

1 and remit them to Local 715, and because the dues deduction authorization forms required
 2 remittance specifically to Local 715 and to no other organization, Quintel Decl., ¶ 35 & Ex. T
 3 (attaching dues remittance form), the Hospitals determined that they no longer could remit dues 4 that were being diverted to UHW. Accordingly, on March 2, 2007, Ms. Quintel sent a letter to 5 Ms. Sermersheim stating that after the remittance of the dues for February 2007, the Hospitals 6 no longer would remit dues to Local 715 absent clarification of the local's status and the identity
 7 of the organization that would be receiving the dues. See Letter from Laurie Quintel to Kristy 8 Sermersheim, Quintel Decl., Ex. U. According to the Hospitals, such information was never 9 provided; as a result, after March 1, 2007, the Hospitals ceased remitting dues. Quintel Decl., ¶ 10 37. The Hospitals continued to deduct dues from Bargaining Unit employees' paychecks but 11 held the dues in a separate bank account established for that purpose. The Hospitals have 12 continued to follow this procedure. Quintel Decl., ¶ 37.

13 7. Imposition of trusteeship on Local 715

14 On June 8, 2007, SEIU's International President issued an "Order Of Emergency 15 Trusteeship." The Order stated that because of the Hospitals' contention that Local 715 no 16 longer existed, and because of the transfer of "most" of Local 715's members and resources to 17 Local 521, SEIU was placing Local 715 under trusteeship, removing its officers, and appointing 18 Bruce W. "Rusty" Smith as trustee. Order of Emergency Trusteeship, dated June 8, 2007, 19 Inciardi Decl., Ex. Z. The order confirmed that SEIU's Reorganization Plan remained in place 20 and that the remaining members of Local 715 would be "united with other SEIU healthcare 21 members in SEIU United Healthcare Workers–West." Id. The trustee confirmed that the 22 Servicing Agreement would "remain in full force and effect," and that UHW employees would 23 continue to service the Hospitals. See Facsimile from Rusty Smith to Laurie Quintel, dated June 24 14, 2007, Quintel Decl., Ex. FF.

25 8. Legal representation of Local 715

26 In June 2007, the trustee of Local 715 retained the law firm of Altshuler Berzon LLP.
 27 Nonetheless, attorneys from the Weinberg firm continued to act "on behalf" of Local 715 in an undisclosed capacity, without clarifying whether the Altshuler firm actually represented Local 715. Quintel Decl., ¶ 57; Arnold Decl., ¶¶ 40, 49, 55, 65 & Exs. UU & EEE. Attorneys from the Weinberg firm have appeared in each arbitration hearing that has been held since the appointment of the Altshuler Firm as counsel. In light of the Weinberg firm's historic representation of UHW and past indications in correspondence with the Hospitals that it was representing UHW pursuant to the Servicing Agreement, Quintel Decl., ¶ 17 & Ex. E, the Hospitals "grew concerned" that attorneys from the Weinberg firm were acting not on behalf of Local 715 directly but under authority of the Servicing Agreement, which the Hospitals had rejected. The Hospitals therefore requested on multiple occasions that either the Weinberg firm or the trustee clarify whether the firm was representing Local 715 directly or pursuant to the Servicing Agreement. Arnold Decl., ¶ 49 & Ex. NN. These requests were met with silence or refusal to provide the requested information. Arnold Decl., ¶ 50-53 & Ex. OO-RR (attaching correspondence).

To ascertain more directly whether Local 715 continued to exist, the Hospitals made a formal request for information regarding Local 715's status pursuant to the National Labor Relations Act ("NLRA"). When the Hospitals received no information, they filed unfair labor practice charges against Local 715 for withholding the information and, on July 28, 2008, declared that they no longer would recognize Local 715. On August 4, 2008, an administrative law judge assigned to hear the Hospitals' petition found that the information the Hospitals sought was relevant to their obligation to bargain with Local 715 or its purported agents, and that Local 715 had committed an unfair labor practice by withholding the requested information.

C. The Grievances

The first of the six grievances now at issue was filed on April 25, 2006. In that grievance, Local 715 alleged that the Hospitals violated Article 9 of the CBA by refusing to provide so-called "RHC pay"² to certain employees who carried a cell phone-like device called a

² RHC pay is a premium added to an employee's normal compensation where the employee performs functions associated with a higher-graded position or a "Lead" position.

1 “Spectralink.” Quintel Decl., ¶¶ 4-5; Arnold Decl., Ex. E (attaching grievance form). Unable to 2 resolve the Grievance, the parties submitted it to arbitrator Paul D. Staudohar. Arnold Decl., ¶ 3 12. A hearing was held before the arbitrator on April 26, 2007 in Palo Alto, California, and an 4 award in favor of the employees issued on July 2, 2007. Arnold Decl., ¶ 13 & Ex. L.

5 Four additional grievances were filed in March and May of 2007. Quintel Decl., ¶¶ 62, 6 66 & 70 & Exs. QQ, TT, & WW. The Simien Grievance, filed on March 29, 2007, alleged that 7 the Hospitals violated the CBA by giving employee Simien a warning and forcing him to change 8 his shift. Quintel Decl., ¶ 66 & Ex. TT (attaching grievance form). The Satuito, Acosta, and 9 Andrade Grievances, filed on March 6, March 14, and May 22, 2007, respectively, alleged that 10 the Hospitals’ termination of those employees violated the CBA. Quintel Decl., ¶¶ 62 & 70 & 11 Exs., QQ, RR & WW (attaching grievance forms). The Hospitals denied each grievance.
12 Quintel Decl., ¶¶ 63, 67 & 71. Representatives from the Weinberg firm contacted the Hospitals 13 seeking to arbitrate the matters. Arnold Decl., ¶ 55 & Ex. UU. However, by this time, the 14 Hospitals believed that Local 715 “had effectively ceased to exist and/or that the Weinberg 15 attorneys seeking to arbitrate the matter were actually acting on behalf of UHW.” Accordingly, 16 while the Hospitals appeared for arbitration of the Acosta Grievance, they refused to proceed 17 without an assurance from the Weinberg attorneys that they were representing Local 715 directly 18 and not pursuant to the Servicing Agreement. When the Weinberg attorneys refused to give 19 such an assurance, the Hospitals left the arbitration and subsequently refused to arbitrate the 20 remaining disputes. The arbitrator in the Acosta matter conducted an ex parte proceeding and 21 issued a judgment in Acosta’s favor.

22 The sixth grievance was filed on May 22, 2007. That grievance alleged that the 23 Hospitals’ refusal to remit dues to Local 715 violated the CBA. Quintel Decl., ¶ 68 & Ex. UU.
24 On May 30, 2007, Ms. Quintel faxed a letter to Chief Steward Jesus Andrade, informing him 25 that the Hospitals were refusing to process the grievance in light of Local 715’s “evident 26 dissolution.” Quintel Decl., ¶ 69 & Ex. VV. A petition to compel arbitration was filed on 27 January 11, 2008.

III. DISCUSSION

A. The NLRB's Primary Jurisdiction

The Court's first task is to determine whether any of the issues raised by the instant actions implicate the so-called "primary jurisdiction" of the NLRB. "The doctrine of primary jurisdiction is a recognition of congressional intent to have matters of national labor policy decided in the first instance by the National Labor Relations Board." United Ass'n of Journeymen v. Valley Eng'rs, 975 F.2d 611, 613 (9th Cir. 1992) (quoting Glaziers & Glassworkers Local Union No. 767 v. Custom Auto Glass Distribs., 689 F.2d 1339, 1342 (9th Cir. 1982)). Issues falling within the NLRB's primary jurisdiction include designation of an exclusive bargaining agent and identification of an appropriate collective bargaining unit under § 9 of the Labor Relations Management Act. See Local No. 3-193 Int'l Woodworkers v. Ketchikan Pulp Co., 611 F.2d 1295, 1298 (9th Cir. 1980). Such "representational issues" are "more appropriately resolved by the NLRB" than by the courts, Hotel Employees, Restaurant Employees Union, Local 2 v. Marriott Corp., 961 F.2d 1464, 1468 (9th Cir. 1992), given the agency's "superior expertise." Valley Eng'rs, 975 F.2d at 613.

Nonetheless, "[a] case does not fall on the NLRB's primary jurisdiction side of the jurisdictional line merely by having 'representational' overtones." Service Employees Int'l Union v. St. Vincent Med. Center, 344 F.3d 977, 984 (9th Cir. 2003). In addition, "the doctrine of primary jurisdiction does not apply in determining a union's past representational status." United Bhd. of Carpenters v. Endicott Enters. Inc., 806 F.2d 918, 921 (9th Cir. 1986), overruled prospectively on other grounds by Mesa Verde Constr. Co. v. Northern Cal. Dist. Council of Laborers, 861 F.2d 1124 (9th Cir. 1988) (en banc), and 895 F.2d 516 (9th Cir. 1990). Thus, where parties seek to establish rights under agreements that were operative in the past, and "do not seek any determination with regard to what now constitutes an appropriate bargaining unit or with regard to whether any union now represents any . . . employee[,] . . . the district court ha[s] jurisdiction to hear th[e] case." Pace v. Honolulu Disposal Serv., Inc., 227 F.3d 1150, 1157 (9th Cir. 2000).

As will become clear in the discussion that follows, in order to decide whether Local 715 is an extant labor organization, such that it may request confirmation of arbitration awards or seek to compel arbitration of disputes, the Court need only determine whether Local 715 has any members and performs any representational functions. It need not determine whether Local 715 is a proper bargaining authority for any particular bargaining unit. In addition, to determine whether Local 715 has standing to compel arbitration of the disputes in question, the Court need only determine whether Local 715 remained in continuous existence throughout the period in which the allegedly unlawful conduct occurred. That is a question of “past representational status” which this Court properly may determine.

B. Status of Local 715

1. Existence for purposes of standing

The Hospitals rely on all of the testimonial and documentary evidence previously discussed to establish that Local 715 no longer exists. Specifically, the Hospitals refer to the repeated assertions by persons associated with Local 715 that the local had ceased to exist, to similar assertions that UHW was performing all representational functions formerly performed by Local 715, and to the fact that SEIU intended to and to all appearances did merge Local 715 into UHW. In addition, the Hospitals provide competent evidence that as of June 8, 2007, Local 715 had no employees, Sermersheim Depo., Ridley Decl., Ex. F, 93:19-95:17; Smith Depo., Ridley Decl., Ex. G, 119:16-25; 297:14-24, virtually no records, see Escamilla Depo., Ridley Decl., Ex. D, 43:2-15; Smith Depo., 74:13-15; 77:19-81:11, no members, Sermersheim Depo., 59:1-6, and no assets except for a “terminal rainy day fund” that would be transferred to Local 521, Smith Depo., 346:22-348:10. In addition, testimonial evidence indicates that Local 715 has not paid the fees of any of the attorneys who purport to represent it, Smith Depo., 233:15-234:15, and that dues received by Local 715 have been delivered to other organizations, Sermersheim Depo., 118:13-119:22; 177:18-178:4; Smith Depo., 202:20-205:7; 310:18-311:18; 313:2-316:2. Finally, the organization’s trustee has performed no duties for Local 715 on his own and has stated that the “objective of the trusteeship was to have the [Stanford] Unit

1 represented by UHW.” Smith Depo., 231:7-13.

2 On the basis of this extensive evidence—both documentary and testimonial, and both 3 anecdotal and structural—the Court finds that the Hospitals have met their initial burden to show 4 the lack of a triable issue of fact with respect to the purported non-existence of Local 715. To 5 establish that it does exist, Local 715 asserts only that (1) the Hospitals “understood” Local 715 6 to exist, (2) the Hospitals continued until July 28, 2008 to deal with employees who, prior to 7 March 1, 2007, had been designated as Local 715 shop stewards, and (3) Local 715, through its 8 trustee, continues to represent employees of Stanford University and Santa Clara University. In 9 support of its contention that the Hospitals “understood” it to exist after March 1, 2007, Local 10 715 first refers to a federal court action filed in August 2006. However, because that action was 11 filed considerably before the date on which Local 715 allegedly became defunct, and because it 12 relates to conduct occurring exclusively in the summer of 2006, the action has no bearing on the 13 instant case. Local 715 next cites the claim of unfair labor practices that the Hospitals filed 14 before the NLRB, arguing that the filing of the claim shows the Hospitals’ recognition that 15 Local 715 continued to exist. But the sole purpose of that claim, as discussed above, was to 16 compel Local 715 to provide information about whether it did or did not exist. Indeed, the ALJ
17 concluded that Local 715’s refusal to provide such information constituted an unfair labor 18 practice.

19 Local 715 also points to an allegation made in the Hospitals’ petition dated October 9, 20 2007 to vacate the arbitral award in the Anesthesia Techs case. In the petition, the Hospitals 21 alleged that Local 715 was a “labor organization.” However, between March 1, 2007 and the 22 date on which the petition was (and had to be) filed, Local 715 consistently refused to provide 23 the Hospitals with information concerning its status. See Quintel Decl., ¶¶ 36, 39, 41-44, 46-47
24 & Exs. U, W, Y, BB, DD, EE; Arnold Decl., ¶¶ 41-42, 48-54 & Exs. GG, MM-TT; Ridley 25 Decl., Ex. B. Because Local 715 refused to clarify its status in a manner that would have 26 permitted the Hospitals accurately to state their position, the Hospitals were not required to elect 27 between having “to forego a potential claim [or] run[ning] the risk of having such a claim used 28

1 as an admission.” Dugan v. EMS Helicopters, Inc., 915 F.2d 1428, 1434 (10th Cir. 1990) 2 (citation omitted). Accordingly, the Court attaches no legal significance to the allegation in the 3 October 9, 2007 petition.

4 Local 715 next argues that its existence is demonstrated by the Hospitals’ purported 5 dealing with Local 715 shop stewards after March 1, 2007. Specifically, Local 715 states that 6 “[a]fter March 1, 2007 and until July 28, 2008, there existed a Shop Steward structure, 7 consisting of 25 Shop Stewards; the Shop Stewards were responsible for representing their 8 fellow workers and sought to enforce and protect their rights under their collective bargaining 9 agreement.” Local 715’s Opp. to MSJ, Case No. C 08-213 JF, at 8:10-13. The only direct 10 evidence of this claim lies in (1) several vague and conclusory statements in the deposition of 11 Myriam Escamilla, a UHW employee purportedly acting on behalf of Local 715, and (2) the 12 declaration and attached correspondence of Linda Cornell, an employee of the Hospitals who 13 purports to have acted as a representative of Local 715 until its decertification in July 2008.

14 The fact that the Hospitals interacted with their employees, some of whom claimed to be 15 associated with Local 715, does not establish that Local 715 continued to exist. As an initial 16 matter, one of the purported Local 715 employees with whom the Hospitals dealt—in fact, the 17 local’s former Chief Shop Steward—stated on two occasions that Local 715 did not exist. See
18 Email from Robert Rutledge, Chief Shop Steward of Local 715, to Valerie Jeffries, Quintel 19 Decl., Ex. O (“SEIU 715 no longer exists and a service agreement between the former 715 and 20 UHW has been in place since March first of 2006.”); see also Quintel Decl., ¶ 29. A second 21 such employee stated categorically that UHW was representing the Hospital employees’ 22 bargaining unit. See Statement of Chuck Fonseca, former executive board member of Local 23 715, at Palo Alto City Council Meeting, Quintel Decl., Ex. NN, at 36-38 (stating that the 24 “Stanford Lucile Packard Hospital employees [are] represented by UHW”).

25 More importantly, the primary evidence offered to show dealings between the Hospitals 26 and the purported Local 715 fails to accomplish its purpose. The evidence consists of the 27 declaration of Linda Cornell, who claims to have been an assistant shop steward in the 28

1 organization. Ms. Cornell states with distinct ambiguity that “[p]rior to” September 2008, she 2 “actively participated as a member in SEIU Local 715 since 1998.” Cornell Decl., ¶ 2. While 3 Ms. Cornell asserts repeatedly that she corresponded and otherwise dealt with the Hospitals in 4 her capacity as assistant shop steward of Local 715 on a variety of occasions, each such 5 interaction occurred well after March 1, 2007, the latest date on which Local 715 could have 6 ceased to exist as a separate and distinct entity, and also after June 8, 2007, when a trusteeship 7 was placed over whatever remained of Local 715. See Cornell Decl., ¶¶ 3-20. In addition, Ms.
 8 Cornell makes no mention of any interaction with any other entity or person purporting to 9 represent Local 715. Id.

10 As is readily apparent, Ms. Cornell’s account of the status of Local 715 is inconsistent 11 with the record, as set forth above. See, e.g., Sermersheim Depo., Ridley Decl., Ex. F, 93:19-12 95:17 & Smith Depo., Ex. G; 119:16-25; 297:14-24 (confirming that Local 715 had no 13 employees after June 8, 2007); Sermersheim Depo., 59:1-6 (confirming that all members of 14 Local 715 were transferred to other unions). Yet her account is fully consistent with the 15 Hospitals’ explanation of these interactions. Faced with the apparent dissolution of Local 16 715—the only collective bargaining agent with which the Hospitals legally could deal—the 17 Hospitals continued to deal with persons who previously had been recognized as legitimate 18 agents of Local 715. The Hospitals did so without conceding that Local 715 actually existed.
 19 Given their contractual obligation to bargain with Local 715 and their simultaneous doubt as to 20 whether Local 715 continued to exist, the Hospitals’ interaction with purported employees of 21 Local 715 was no more than a prudent course designed to preserve the Hospitals’ legal rights.

22 Local 715’s final attempt to demonstrate its continued existence rests on the claim that, 23 while it no longer services workers at the Hospitals, it has active members at Santa Clara 24 University and Stanford University. This claim, however, rests entirely on two conclusory 25 sentences in the declarations of the appointed trustee of Local 715. See Smith Decl., ¶ 3; Supp.
 26 Smith Decl., ¶ 5. “Conclusory allegations . . . without factual support, are insufficient to defeat 27 summary judgment.” National Steel Corporation v. Golden Eagle Ins. Co., 121 F.3d 496, 502 28

(9th Cir. 1997). Where, as here, “the moving party has carried its burden under Rule 56(c), its opponent must do more than simply show that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the material facts.” Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 586 (1986). In the face of the evidence provided by the Hospitals, which includes both written documentation and a significant number of admissions by those associated with or claiming to act on behalf of Local 715, the unsupported assertion that Local 715 has members is insufficient to create a genuine issue of fact. Indeed, in light of the trustee’s own testimony that Local 715 has no employees, retains no assets used for representational purposes, and receives no dues, see Smith Depo., 119:16-25; 198:1-199:25; 202:20-205:7; 297:14-24; 346:6-348:6, it is difficult to imagine how Local 715 could be carrying out representational functions with respect to the purported members.

Local 715 relies heavily on the breadth of the statutory definition of “labor organizations”³ and refers in particular to the Eighth Circuit’s decision in N.L.R.B. v. Blanton Company, 121 F.2d 564 (8th Cir. 1941). In Blanton, the defendant company argued that its collective bargaining obligations were at an end because the union no longer existed. In support of this argument, the company submitted evidence showing that the union “had become more or less inactive,” that the company “had been able to obtain cards signed by almost all of the employees that they were desirous of conducting their labor relations with the management,” and that the president of the union “attempt[ed] . . . to declare that ‘there is no C.I.O. union.’” Id. at 568-69. The court rejected the employer’s contentions, noting that the cessation of union activities was incomplete, that some of the union’s members did not agree to a transfer of representation, and that the union had not been dissolved formally. Most importantly, the court was convinced by the record “that the dazed condition of the union had been occasioned by the ³ The National Labor Relations Act defines a labor organization as “any organization of any kind, or any agency or employee representation committee or plan, in which employees participate and which exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, or conditions of work.” 29 U.S.C. § 152(5).

1 persistent undermining efforts of the employer,” id. at 569, which “definitely sought to prevent 2 unionization of the plant, and . . . so maneuvered the situation that the efforts at 3 self-organization finally were frustrated,” id. at 571. As a result, “[a]ny change in [the union’s] 4 status from such a cause was not one” that justified non-recognition by the company. Id. at 569.

5 The instant case bears little resemblance to Blanton. First, the record indicates that by 6 the time the trusteeship was imposed, at the latest, Local 715 not only had become “more or less 7 inactive” but had been stripped of every function characteristic of a labor organization. Second, 8 the statements by former Local 715 personnel that the union had ceased to exist were repeated 9 on multiple occasions and in multiple contexts, and in fact are fully consistent with the other 10 evidence of the union’s dissolution that is now before this Court. Third, in contrast to the union 11 in Blanton, Local 715 effectively was dissolved when the International President of SEIU 12 ordered that it and several other unions “be, and are hereby, reorganized into SEIU Local 13 UHW.” Order of Reorganization, Inciardi Decl., Ex. U (emphasis added). Finally, in contrast to 14 the obstructionist tactics employed by the company in Blanton, the Hospitals repeatedly sought 15 to clarify the status of Local 715 so that they could meet their procedural obligations under the 16 CBA. Indeed, Local 715’s evasive position on the issue necessitated the filing of unfair labor 17 practice charges to compel the production of information concerning the status of Local 715.

18 2. Existence as a prerequisite of bargaining authority

19 Even if the Court were to accept the trustee’s conclusory declarations as competent 20 evidence that Local 715 currently represents some employees, Local 715 has failed to show a 21 triable issue of fact with respect to whether it continued to exist at the time the conduct at issue 22 in five of the six grievances occurred. It is well-established that events which alter a bargaining 23 entity’s status, including termination and decertification, “do not destroy the right to redress 24 arising under and relating to a valid preexisting contract,” such that when the union “was the 25 authorized representative [at the time], [it later may] properly act[] in that limited role.” Int’l 26 Union, United Auto., Aerospace and Agr. Implement Workers of Am. and its Amalgamated 27 Local Union No. 1369 v. Telex Computer Prods., Inc., 816 F.2d 519, 523 (10th Cir. 1987)

(citing John Wiley & Sons, Inc. v. Livingston, 376 U.S. 543 (1964)). However, a local union's transfer of its representational status to another local constitutes a disclaimer of interest. See, e.g., Sisters of Mercy Health Corp., 277 NLRB 1353, 1354 (1985); Teamsters Local 595 (Sweetener Products), 268 NLRB 1106, 1111 n. 11 (1984). After making such a disclaimer, the original local "[cannot] thereafter resurrect its bargaining status." Sisters of Mercy, 277 NLRB at 1354 (emphasis added).

In the instant case, because five of the six subject grievances arose after March 1, 2007, when Local 715 allegedly ceased to exist, Local 715 must demonstrate at least a triable issue of fact with respect to its continued existence after that date.⁴ Despite all of the evidence that Local 715 ceased to exist on or around March 1, 2007—inter alia, the statements of its purported members and employees, SEIU's implementation of the reorganization plan, the dismantling of Local 715's website, and the transfer of its assets, records, and members to other locals—the sole "evidence" of the local's continued existence at that time is the unsupported assertion by the later-appointed trustee that Local 715 had several thousand members when the trusteeship was imposed on June 8, 2007. This imprecise and unsupported assertion is no more capable of defeating summary judgment than the equally unsupported assertions in the Smith Declaration that the Court already has rejected. National Steel Corp., 121 F.3d at 502. Rather, the record supports the Hospitals' claim that "[a]fter March 1, 2007, [no one] remotely associated with 'Local 715' took any action or played any role whatsoever in connection with representation of the [Stanford] Unit." Hospitals' Reply ISO MSJ, Case No. C. 07-5158 JF, at 9:4-7 (citing Smith Depo., 205:8-14; Sermersheim Depo., 302:12-305:2; Quintel Decl., ¶ 5).

Nor could the trusteeship preserve Local 715's status if Local 715 ceased to exist on or about March 1, 2007. A trusteeship may be imposed only upon a "subordinate body" of a parent union. See 29 U.S.C. § 462. If "the local disappears[,] there is nothing to impose a trusteeship on The local is no longer a subordinate body of the international; it is no sort of body; it is nothing.” Int’l Bhd. of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers, and Helpers, AFL-CIO v. Local Lodge 714, Int’l Bhd. of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers, and Helpers, AFL-CIO, 845 F.2d 687, 692 (7th Cir. 1988); accord Flight Eng’rs Int’l Ass’n v. Continental Air Lines, Inc., 297 F.2d 397, 402-03 (9th Cir. 1961). Thus, the record supports the conclusion that as of March 1, 2007, the Hospitals legitimately “could refuse to recognize [the original local] as the unit employees’ representatives and [that] [the original local] could not thereafter resurrect its bargaining status” by imposition of a trusteeship. Sisters of Mercy, 277 NLRB at 1354.

IV. CONCLUSION

In light of the foregoing, the Court concludes that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact that could demonstrate that Local 715 exists for standing purposes, or that it existed at the time that a majority of the grievances arose. Recognizing that this conclusion may well impair the rights of the workers who looked to Local 715 for representation, the Court reaches it with great reluctance. Yet the record leaves at most a metaphysical doubt as to the existence of Local 715, and such a doubt is insufficient to defeat summary judgment. Johnson v. City of Seattle, 474 F.3d 634, 638 (9th Cir. 2007). At the same time, the Hospitals’ success in demonstrating the non-existence of Local 715 prevents the Court from granting all of the relief that the Hospitals seek. Because “the sole plaintiff . . . no longer exists[,] . . . this . . . case is now moot.” Continental Air Lines, Inc., 297 F.2d at 403. Accordingly, the Court may not reach any further arguments or grant either party’s motions, and each of the six actions must be dismissed.
